Description: The Atlanta Contemporary Jewelry Show is a signature exhibition of thirty world class jewelry artists hailing from sixteen states. This public event offers an opportunity to meet the artists, be entertained, be surprised, and purchase distinctive works produced by hand in their independent studios. Celebrating its eleventh year, the show returns to The Carter Center for three days. More information at AtlantaContemporaryJewelryShow.com

Extras...

Meet the Artists Wine Reception on Saturday evening from 4 pm to 7 pm offers a time to relax and chat with the artists about their work. Included with admission.

Admission to the show includes reduced entrance to the Jimmy Carter Library & Museum

A portion of proceeds from the show benefits CERF+, the Craft Emergency Relief Fund, a national service organization providing relief and assistance to craft artists who have suffered natural disasters or other catastrophic events. More information at craftemergency.org
